

Joy Baluch AM Bridge Duplication Project

Site compound establishment

The Joy Baluch AM Bridge is an important link in the National Land Transport Network at Port Augusta, providing access across the Spencer Gulf for commuter, commercial and freight vehicles in the northern region of South Australia. It is also a key tourist connection to the Eyre Peninsula, northern South Australia and beyond.

The Joy Baluch AM Bridge Duplication Project is a joint initiative of the Australian and South Australian governments and will be delivered by the Port Wakefield to Port Augusta Project (PW2PA) Alliance.

As part of the project, a small site compound will be established adjacent to the Augusta Highway on the western side of the bridge. Pedestrian access from the Westside Foreshore to the Augusta Highway will not be available while the new bridge is being constructed.

Timing of works:

Works are expected to commence in mid-September 2020 and the site compound will remain in place until the completion of the project in late 2022.

Activities:

Establishing a small site compound on the western side of the bridge.

Major construction of the Joy Baluch AM Bridge Duplication is scheduled to commence later this year. Further notifications will be provided as works progress.

What to expect:

Pedestrian access will be available via Mellor Street and Burgoyne Street, and signage will be in place to alert pedestrians to the change in conditions (see map overleaf).

Access to residential and business properties will be maintained at all times.
